

WORKSHOPS MAKE HEALTHY EATING FUN

By Chris Ross

Originally published March 28, 2012 at 12:01 a.m., updated March 22, 2012 at 3:35 p.m.

The Pick: Kids in the Kitchen events this Saturday and April 28, sponsored by the Junior League of San Diego at the Olivewood Gardens and Learning Center in National City.

Why it rates: These free, recurring Saturday workshops (10 a.m. to 1 p.m.) are a way for youngsters to learn about healthy eating through hands-on cooking demonstrations and gardening activities. The beautiful 6.85-acre Olivewood center is dedicated to garden-based nutrition education for students in underserved communities.

Info: Olivewood Gardens and Learning Center is located at 2525 N Ave., National City. All Kids in the Kitchen events are free and open to all elementary-school-age children and their families. For more information, visit olivewoodgardens.org/education/kids-in-the-kitchen. Reservations are recommended and can be made by emailing kidsinthekitchen@jlsd.org.

© Copyright 2012 The San Diego Union-Tribune, LLC. An MLIM LLC Company. All rights reserved.